1. Why should you go to Japan now?

Japan's economy is now emerging from its "lost 30 years" and is on the verge of a new dawn. You have probably seen the following news. The Nikkei 225 Index hit its highest level in 34 years in February. The Bank of Japan raised its policy rate in March for the first time in 17 years. This year's annual negotiations between the labour force and management brought wage increases to their highest level in decades.

"Japan Weeks 2024", held by the Japanese Financial Services Agency (FSA), will provide many opportunities for overseas investors to deepen their knowledge of the Japanese economy. We invite you to come to Japan this fall to see the changes in Japan with your own eyes. If you visit Japan, please stop by our office; our economists and portfolio managers will be happy to discuss the Japanese economy and financial markets with you.

One more thing: late September to early October in Japan is the best season to travel, as the weather is pleasant. We hope you will also enjoy the beautiful scenery and delicious Japanese cuisine. 2. What is “Japan Weeks 2024”?

a. About Japan Weeks

In a bid to promote Japan as a leading asset management and global financial centre, the Japanese government is advancing its initiatives through “Japan Weeks” – a series of events held with the participation of overseas investors and asset management firms.

The first “Japan Weeks” took place in Autumn 2023 and following its success a second round is scheduled to be held this Autumn in 2024. This year’s core week will be from September 30 to October 4, with a variety of events held during, before and after this week.

b. Overview of this year's events

Main Event: "Asset Management Forum (Tentative)" on October 3, 2024

This event will discuss the initiatives of the "Policy Plan for Promoting Japan as a Leading Asset Management Centre", emerging asset managers, sustainable finance, and other topics.

Background: The Japanese government is working to implement reforms in the asset management industry and asset ownership to promote Japan as a leading asset management centre. It also aims to promote new domestic and foreign participation and competition in the asset management business. In December 2023, the government released the "Policy Plan for Promoting Japan as a Leading Asset Management Centre". It recognises the importance of dialogue with stakeholders and the dissemination of information on the attractiveness of the Japanese market.

The government decided to launch an "Asset Management Forum" in cooperation with related domestic and foreign businesses and investors. It established a preparatory committee for this purpose in December 2023.

We, Sumitomo Mitsui Trust Asset Management (SuMi TRUST AM), are a member of this preparatory committee and are scheduled to attend this event.
